

Immunology Laboratory Director – University of Utah / ARUP Laboratories

The University of Utah, Department of Pathology, is seeking a Laboratory Director in Immunology to work at ARUP Laboratories, an enterprise of the University of Utah. The successful candidate will have a faculty appointment in the Department of Pathology with rank and track based on academic experience.

ARUP is a full service, high complexity reference laboratory with clients from more than half of the nation's university teaching and children's hospitals, major commercial laboratories, military and government facilities, and many community hospitals. As such, the laboratory sees a broad range of specimen types and indications and offers a range of testing options from traditional techniques to esoteric testing.

Responsibilities include interpretation of laboratory results, consultation with physicians, resident and fellow education, and quality control and quality assurance, and supporting the academic and test development projects with the laboratory and Department of Pathology.

Applicants should hold either a PhD degree with board certification by the American Board of Medical Laboratory Immunology (ABMLI) or an MD degree with board certification in clinical pathology. Preference will be given to candidates with extensive experience in Immunology laboratory testing.

Applicants should submit electronically to <http://utah.peopleadmin.com/postings/80154>, a curriculum vitae, a brief cover letter and the names and addresses of three references.

For more information, please contact Patricia R. Slev, PhD, Section Chief, Immunology Division at ARUP Laboratories (patricia.slev@aruplab.com)

The University of Utah Health (U of U Health) is a patient focused center distinguished by collaboration, excellence, leadership, and respect. The U of U Health values candidates who are committed to fostering and furthering the culture of compassion, collaboration, innovation, accountability, diversity, integrity, quality, and trust that is integral to our mission.

The University of Utah is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer and does not discriminate based upon race, national origin, color, religion, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, disability, or status as a Protected Veteran. Upon request, reasonable accommodations in the application process will be provided to individuals with disabilities. To inquire about the University's nondiscrimination policy or to request disability accommodation, please contact: Director, Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action, 201 S. Presidents Circle, Rm 135, (801) 581-8365.

The University of Utah values candidates who have experience working in settings with students from diverse backgrounds and possess a demonstrated commitment to improving access to higher education for historically underrepresented students.